Moran's passion for photography began at a young age. She grew up in a small town in Northern California, where she spent countless hours exploring the natural beauty of the surrounding area. "I was always drawn to the beauty of nature," she says. "I loved to hike, camp, and explore the rivers and streams. Photography was a way for me to capture the beauty of the world around me and share it with others."

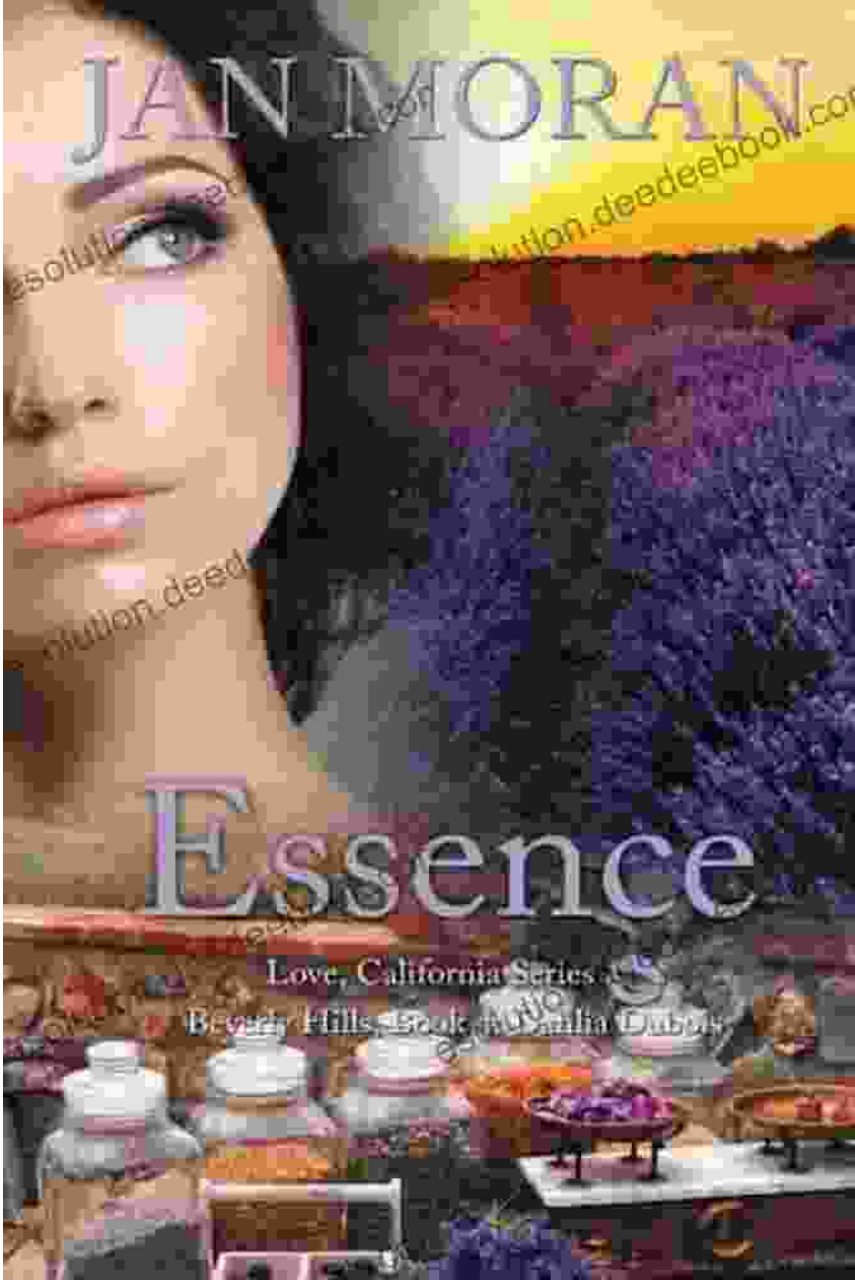

After graduating from high school, Moran attended the University of California, Berkeley, where she studied photography. After graduating from college, she worked as a commercial photographer for several years. However, she eventually decided to leave the corporate world and pursue her passion for fine art photography.

In 2006, Moran founded Essence Love California. The company's mission is to celebrate the beauty of California through photography. Moran travels throughout the state, capturing the diverse landscapes, from the rugged coastline to the towering mountains. Her photographs are known for their vibrant colors, dramatic lighting, and sense of place.

Moran's work has been exhibited in galleries and museums around the world. She has also received numerous awards for her photography, including the prestigious Lucie Award for Landscape Photography. In addition to her photography, Moran is also a passionate advocate for the environment. She works with several organizations to promote conservation and protect California's natural beauty.

Jan Moran is a true ambassador for California. Her stunning photography captures the essence of the Golden State and inspires others to appreciate its beauty. She is a role model for photographers and conservationists alike, and her work will continue to inspire and amaze for generations to come.
