The game features a diverse cast of dinosaurs, each representing a unique rhyming scheme. Triceratops, with its three-horned grandeur, beckons players to complete rhymes that follow the ABA pattern. Diplodocus, the gentle giant, challenges budding poets to master the AABB rhyme scheme. And the formidable Tyrannosaurus rex, with its thunderous roar, demands rhymes that adhere to the ABCB pattern.

Dance like a diplodocus

Use the words of this rhyme to inspire a range of movements for each verse - from soaring like a bird with arms outstretched to pouncing on imaginary prey!

Dance like a diplodocus,
Swaying through the trees;
Fly like a pterodactyl,
Soaring in the breeze.

Sprint like a gallimimus,
Stepping through the land;
Hunt like a velociraptor,
Circling in a band.

Scoff like a stegosaurus,
Munching juicy shoots;
Chomp like an opatosaurus,
Crunching stones and roots.

Roar like a T-rex,
Pouncing on its prey;
Run like triceratops,
Saying, 'Don't eat me today!'
